Queen Victoria's Marked Poem.

Here is a funny story told of a happening at the English court: Sir Theodore Martin had been requested by Victoria to read aloud from "The Ring and the Book." Sir Theodore was courteous enough to make a cautious study beforehand of the poem, and he placed marginal notes as danger signals against passages of doubtful propriety. The marked copy chanced to come into the hands of a rather thoughtless court lady. "I have so enjoyed this wonderful work," she said to a friend, "and it has been such an advantage to read it after the queen, for she has placed marks against the most beautiful parts, and, oh, what exquisite taste the dear queen has!" she added, pointing to the danger signals of Sir Theodore Martin.—Quiver.

Novel Measurement.

One of the difficulties in the way of acquiring exact information in Georgia courts is thus indicated by the Atlanta Constitution:

"How far was it," asked the lawyer of the witness, "from your house to the road where the difficulty occurred?" "Bout a acre on a half, sah" "I mean how many yards?" "Day wuzn't any yards dere at all, sah, exceptin' of my yard, en dat wuz 'bout a acre on a half fum de road!"

Funny.

Wickwire—Say, I have been carrying those I O U's of yours until they are almost worn out.

Mudge—Don't they make a miserable quality of paper nowadays?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Always Worn.

Sprocket—I've just joined the Beginners' Cycle club.

Handlebar—What are your colors?

Sprocket—Black and blue.—Chicago Record.

There are about 2,000 persons in France who are set down as anarchists and are under the constant watch of the police of the various European countries.

Pockets in ladies' dresses first appeared in England during the reign of Edward III.

Plenty to Do.

"I thought you told me, Watson, that you intended to do business just the same after you had moved into the suburbs. I know you have plenty, but I always thought you one of those men who insist upon dying in the harness." "You were right about it, my old friend. I believe that it would be impossible for me to avoid spending at least two or three hours a day on 'change, but my time is completely taken up, and I haven't looked at a market report for a month."

"Wouldn't believe it if any one else told me. How do you exist?"

"I'm having young trees set out, getting a garden ready, superintending the building of a barn, watching them pave the street and having a continued kick with the assessors, who seem to think that my property is worth all I paid for it."

"You'll soon have all that off your hands. I was afraid you might have left us permanently."

"Oh, I've only commenced. I have a Jersey cow, a pointer pup, a tandem, two Berkshire pigs and a kodak, besides."

"Never mind. The cow, the pup and the kodak are enough. I'll just tell the boys that it's all off, so far as trade with you is concerned. You have three fads that will keep you busier than a coon in a bee tree."—Detroit Free Press.

A Handy Foot Measure.

If you are ever placed in a position where it is desirable to know the length of your foot, but inconvenient to take the measurement, as was the case of the English gentleman who wished to purchase hosiery, but could neither tell the size required nor raise his foot to the counter for inspection, you can find a very easy way out of the difficulty. Double up your fist and measure around the knuckles. The length of string required in taking the measure will be the length of your foot.—Chicago Record.

Japanese Fans.

The fans carried by little girls and among all classes are the open, flat fans called uchiwa (oo-oh-ee-wah), while those carried by boys and men are the folded ones called ogi (o-gee, g hard).—Ida T. Hodnett in St. Nicholas.

A white china silk gown, trimmed with mousseline de soie frills, and with a narrow minx border round the décolletage and on the frills of the armholes, is as pretty an evening dress as could be desired.

NOTICE OF DISTRIBUTION.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF the Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, Washoe county.

In the Matter of the Estate of James McDermott, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that, M. Hattan, the administrator of the estate of James McDermott, deceased, has filed in this Court his petition, praying for an order authorizing him to distribute the residue of the estate of James McDermott, deceased, among the persons entitled; and all persons interested in the said estate, are hereby notified to be and appear, before the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, Washoe county, at the Court-room of said Court, in the City of Reno, on Saturday, the 18th day of June 1898, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day, being the time and place set for hearing said petition; and there to show cause if any there be, why an order authorizing the said administrator to distribute the residue of said estate, among the heirs of said deceased, according to law, should not be granted.

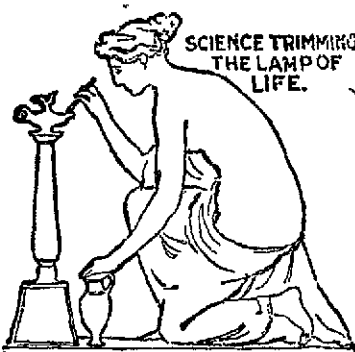

F. B. PORTER, Clerk.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and returned to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description could be given the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.

MONEY FOR WAR PURPOSES.

The war in Spain is depleting the country of coin. Gold has disappeared from circulation and silver is rapidly going out of the country. Though a law has been enacted prohibiting the exportation of silver it cannot be enforced, as the people in the frontier provinces take the coin across the frontier. The Madrid mint is coining a million pesetas daily, but in consequence of the heavy exportation of silver that is not sufficient to avert a monetary crisis. The Minister of Finance now proposes to have more silver coined at the French mint for circulation in Spain as it is now the only metallic money in the hands of the masses of the people.

Our government is now paying out gold for everything so that it will have an excuse for issuing more bonds and thus satisfy the sharks who expect to profit by the necessities of the country during the war with Spain. An issue of greenbacks, made a legal tender for all debts, public and private, would answer the purpose of bonds and save the people the payment of interest, but it would be unsatisfactory to the money kings and they control the Administration. Greenbacks would benefit the masses by making money more plentiful and increasing the price of labor and the products of labor, but increasing the volume of money would not benefit the gold syndicate and the Administration, therefore, is opposed to issuing non-interest bearing legal tender notes.

THE INCOME TAX DECISION.

The Democrats and Silver men in the House of Representatives proposed an amendment to the war revenue bill providing for a tax on incomes. In advocacy of the amendment, Representative Clayton said:

The early fathers of the Republic when they needed extraordinary revenue imposed a tax upon carriages, which at that time were only owned by the rich, and the United States Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of that tax. When the government was in trouble in 1862, Congress again imposed a tax, and was upheld by an undivided court in 1868. In 1880 the Supreme Court of the United States again unanimously decided in favor of the constitutionality of the income tax. The law of 1894 was decided unconstitutional by a majority of one. The fact militates against the value of the decision as a precedent.

A BAD POLICY.

The policy of the Administration in appointing Brigadier Generals and Colonels of volunteers is roundly condemned by the press and the people. An exchange says the action of the President in appointing broken down politicians or their sons to commands in the army cannot be too seriously condemned. It is bad enough to go into battle under a trained commander and to send men to battle under an incompetent officer is nothing less than murder. Very many of the brigade and regimental officers of volunteers have been commissioned not because of their qualifications, but for the reason that they had the ear of the President.

The Morro Castles.

Readers of war news have probably been puzzled to understand why so many Morros are mentioned in the dispatches. There is a Morro Castle at the entrance of the harbor of Havana, another at the outer point of San Juan Baptista, Puerto Rico; another Morro Castle at the mouth of Santiago de Cuba, and so on. The word "Morro" really means a high point of land or promontory. Many harbors of the West Indies are land-locked, with narrow entrances and expanding waters inland, sometimes like a man's hand, the wrist representing the mouth of the harbor. In nearly all these cases one side of the entrance is high land, often a rocky lofty cliff, and on these high lands, fortifications have been erected, and the more pretentious are called castles, hence we have "Morro Castle," which really means the castle of the promontory.—Exchange.

A. J. Bryan is now a Colonel. It is authoritatively stated that Secretary Alger, on the President's second call for troops has accepted another regiment from Nebraska with W. J. Bryan as Colonel in command. It is said that this regiment will in all probability be ordered to San Francisco for service on the Pacific Coast, or at Manila.

CONDENSED WAR NOTES.

A special from Port au Prince, Hayti says the United States fleet renewed the attack upon Santiago de Cuba yesterday morning. It is claimed that 3,000 insurgents are in the rear of Santiago and that an attack from them on the city is momentarily expected.

A later dispatch says that the insurgents have attacked the city in three columns and a bloody fight is in progress.

For an hour on Wednesday the American fleet kept up a bombardment of the land batteries and firing on Cervera's fleet in the harbor of Santiago. No attempt was made to bring off a general naval engagement on the part of Schley, it being his design to locate the batteries on the hills above the harbor and to determine the location of the Spanish fleet. At 1 o'clock the signal was given to form column and as each U. S. vessel passed the batteries, they fired, doing deadly work.

There is no doubt that the Christobal Colon was struck with a shell and the land batteries and forts were badly crippled. The United States vessels suffered but little although the Spaniards kept up an energetic firing.

The battleship Oregon joined the fleet at Key West yesterday morning after completing one of the most remarkable long distance cruises of modern times. She was received with proper recognition by the other vessels of the fleet.

The Spanish Ambassador at London contends that the Christobal Colon is the only important Spanish warship at Santiago de Cuba.

The tug Leyden, which has been scouting the north coast of Cuba, ran into a trio of Spanish gunboats on Wednesday. She ran into Cardenas harbor and sighted the three gunboats slowly steaming out by another entrance. She sent in a couple of shots from a six-pounder, but the warships did not reply, evidently thinking the tug was backed by big cruisers, and they promptly withdrew, the Leyden scudding out to sea.

The Spaniards are filling the harbor of Cardenas with old hulks, boilers and obstructions in order to prevent an effective entrance of American ships.

There is no change at Tampa. No troops have been embarked as yet nor will they be until definite news arrives of the movements of Sampson's and Schley's fleets. The fleet of Cervera is still a factor and until it is disposed of the transports will not take any risks.

The Navy Department gave out yesterday that not a word had been received from Commodore Schley as to the engagement at Santiago. The officials however express no surprise at this as the Commodore must receive reports from the Commanders of the fleet as to casualties etc, before he can file his report.

There was a total lack of war news at Washington yesterday and Secretary Alger left for Philadelphia.

A Notable Achievement.

A letter from John J. Sullivan of this city, who is now studying at the State University, would indicate that he has recently scored a remarkable and noteworthy success. He states that on Friday afternoon out of the lurker, he extracted the poison, acetic acid and delphinine. From the wild onion he got convallamari. He is the first one to isolate the poison, and is certainly deserving of the many congratulations which he is now receiving from the faculty and his fellow students.

The story published by the "Enterprise" purporting to be from one of the Nevada troopers in Torrey's regiment stating that the boys were in a deplorable condition, barefoot and ragged, is emphatically denied by Captain Cox of the Nevada Volunteers who adds that they are well clothed and quartered.

W. O. Bain, an employe in the V. & T. R. R. machine shops at Carson, while obliquing a steel casting yesterday had the misfortune of being hit in the left eye by a piece of the metal destroying that member instantly. While there is no hope of restoring the sight it is thought the eye can be saved and Mr. Bain left for San Francisco last evening for treatment.

IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES.

Last Day of the University Commencement—Dedication of Flags and Flagstaff Presented by Citizens.

Yesterday was a notable in the history of the University of Nevada in various ways. It was not only the closing day of the Commencement for the year 1896 and the commencement of practical life of the graduates, but it served as a lesson in patriotism, love of country and profound respect for the flag which not only impressed the younger people present, but made those of more advanced years overflow with patriotic enthusiasm and pride, that they were privileged to stand under the folds of a free flag and upon free soil, where the most lowly in the land are accorded the same rights and the same consideration in the affairs of the government; the educational institutions, social relations and general affairs of life as the wealthiest magnate, or the duly qualified official of the military branch of the nation. On occasions similar to that of yesterday all stand upon the same level and are only restricted by the unwritten law of social courtesy and the duties of life of which each individual person has his or her special connection or requirement in the makeup of the general affairs of the commonwealth. The programme of yesterday's exercises demonstrated this in every feature. The business men generally closed their places of business for a few hours in recognition of the University and out of respect to the President and Faculty and long before the appointed hour great crowds of people in every walk and position in life could be seen wending their way to the University campus and the big gymnasium was filled to overflowing, yet those who were unable to gain admittance made no complaint at the more fortunate ones, but joined in general conversation and whiled the time away in walking about the grounds and viewing the buildings.

The exercises in the gymnasium were formally opened, and after a musical selection by the High School Orchestra, the Hon. Horace G. Platt, who had been announced to deliver the annual address, was introduced. Mr. Platt had chosen for his subject "Earth Bears no Balm for Mistakes." The speaker reviewed the history of Spain; the atrocities committed by her people under the guise of a self-styled christian nation, her degrading and semi-barbaric influences, the treatment of her colonies. The speaker then spoke of the present conflict with Spain, in which the United States were compelled in the cause of justice and in behalf of an enslaved yet liberty-loving and self-supporting people to intervene and in the name of humanity and progressive civilization crush, if the necessity demands it, a nation which is a menace to civilization and progression and the past history of which proves is not worthy to have an existence. Mr. Platt fully justified the course of the United States in this war and believed that the action of this Government would be accorded the approval of every civilized nation in the world. Mr. Platt is an eloquent and earnest speaker and his address was highly appreciated.

The Scholarship address by Mr. J. O. S. Stubbs followed, on "Success, Its Impulse and Achievement." Mr. Stubbs spoke from a practical view of life, saying that to acquire success one must have an aim and a purpose. That success in life as a rule was gained from small beginnings, not from any sudden achievement. Apparent success might be gained by sudden achievement, but it was usually temporary. In business life this was constantly demonstrated. Great ends must be accomplished by perseverance. Disappointments would come, but they should soon be dismissed and the trial for success renewed. He mentioned the names of many military heroes and told how they had slowly but gradually worked their way to promotion and won an honored name. This was the case with inventors, students and in all walks. First decide upon an aim to be accomplished, then devote every energy to attain it. No matter how small the beginning or how slight the progress, never be discouraged for success would eventually be the reward. Mr. Stubbs gave practical suggestions and advice to the graduates of the Class of '98 and urged them to have a purpose and then to do and strive to reach the rung in the ladder of fame upon which they had set their minds and success would be assured.

The Senior Graduating Class was called forward and as they took their positions, it was noticed that one place was vacant and remained so during the ceremony of conferring the degrees. This place should have been filled by Fred M. Linscott, who had gained the degree of Bachelor of Science. Dr. Stubbs proceeded to confer the degrees and when he reached the place Fred Linscott was to have occupied he told the audience why he was absent. That he had been commissioned by Governor Sadler as Captain of First Nevada Troop, U. S. Cavalry, and was now at his post of duty and would probably pass through Reno soon on his way to the front to obey his country's call. In addressing each graduate, speaking words of praise, encouragement and congratulation on having finished their course at the University and bidding them to have hope and confidence in the future, President Stubbs stopped in front of the place reserved for Linscott and addressed him as though he were present. The incident was very impressive and brought tears to many eyes.

The High School Orchestra closed the exercises with music and the audience adjourned to the campus where the Cadets formed in line headed by the Cadet Band and escorted General O. M. Mitchell Post, G. A. R., and Company O. N. N. G. to the flagstaff presented by citizens and which was to be formally dedicated to the University.

Regent J. N. Evans called the vast assemblage to order and with a few introductory remarks introduced Judge A. E. Cheney, who made a patriotic address on the "Significance of the Flag." The University quartette followed and then Dr. Patterson made the dedicatory address and the presentation of the flagstaff and flags in behalf of citizens of Reno, and "Old Glory" was raised to the masthead, every hat being doffed as the big silken banner was slowly pulled aloft.

Cadet Major D. B. Finlayson in behalf of the Student Body accepted the flagstaff and flags in a neat speech, and President Stubbs performed the same office in behalf of the Board of Regents. The University quartette followed with the "Star Spangled Banner." And at this time one of the most significant features of the day occurred and which aroused the patriotic enthusiasm of everyone and the simultaneous cheer that went forth from that big crowd was echoed and re-echoed to every part of the valley. The incident was especially noticeable from the fact that from the moment the flag was hoisted, its folds hung listlessly about the staff with scarcely a movement during the exercises, but as the University quartette sang the lines, "Oh say does that Star Spangled Banner yet wave," etc., the big flag moved like a thing of life, slowly shaking its folds from the staff and spreading out to its full extent it slowly waved back and forth in rhythmic sympathy with the words of the song. All eyes had been fixed on the beautiful flag and as it unfurled at these words men, women and children seemed to appreciate the significance of the incident and the voices of all joined in one triumphant cheer.

From this point the audience moved to the main entrance to the University grounds where the Class of '98 had prepared as their gift to the State University the bases and two big granite columns to be used as supports to a large iron gate for the University grounds. Appropriate ceremonies were conducted by the Class and the usual responses from the President. The Class of '99 will provide the iron gate which will complete this most useful and ornamental gift to the institution.

Immediately after the conclusion of the exercises a national salute of 21 guns was fired by the University Artillery Corps.

It is estimated that fully six hundred guests were in attendance. Many of the ladies were dressed in exquisite costumes and the big gymnasium presented a scene of beauty never to be forgotten. The festivities ended at an early hour this morning and concluded the University Commencement of '98.
